"Over The Road Haulers"

There is a difference between commercial users and over the road haulers. Commercial Landscapers or Contractors, people that use the trailer for commercial purposes other than hauling for hire, are considered commercial users. Those that haul for hire are considered "over the road users." These trailers often get used 200,000 miles per year. Bigfoot Trailers makes an upgrade package for this type of user. When any model made by Bigfoot Trailers is used for over the road hauling or any extreme duty all aspects of this warranty are limited to 90 days.
